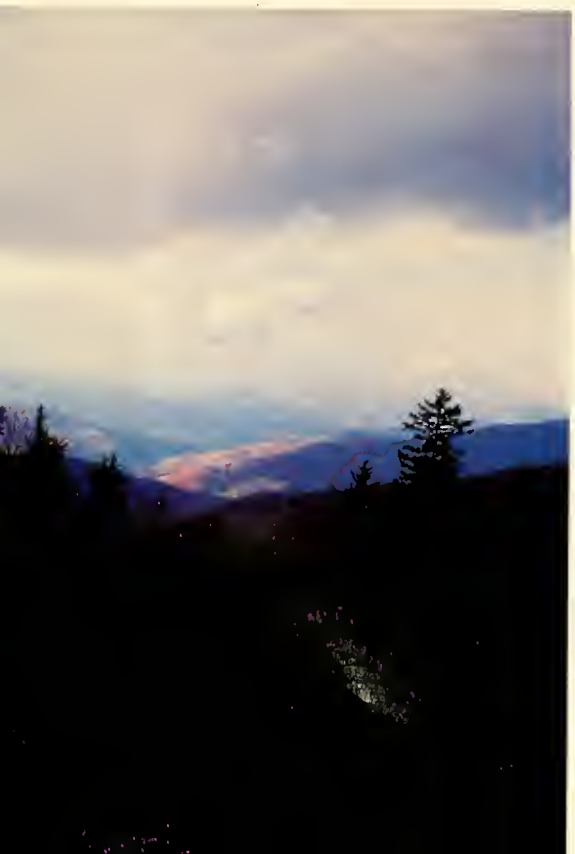
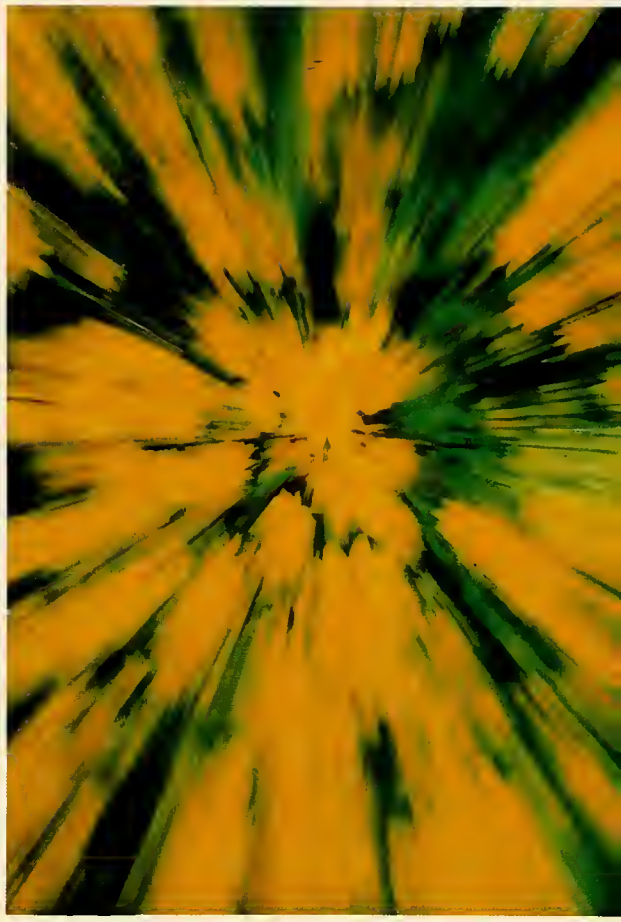
Cullowhee

. . . small town, USA, right? So what? Cullowhee may not be the Big Apple with discos and bars on every corner, but then again, there is no smog or any of the other "extras" in Cullowhee that are found elsewhere. Look at what Cullowhee does have. There's the Appalachian mountains with miles and miles of unsettled wilderness. These are a great place for hiking, camping, snow skiing, or enjoying a sunset with that special someone. There are the dozens of spectacular waterfalls that are scattered along the icy streams racing downhill to form larger creeks and, finally, the Tuckaseigee River. This river winds its way through Cullowhee, at a slow and easy rate, just right for tubing or swimming. For ninety years, Western Carolina University has been a part of all this. And for ninety years, all of it except Western has remained pretty much unchanged. This is, in itself enough to make WCU a unique place. Where else can one find a university of Western's size in such a scenic and unchanged place?





Changes, Changes...

Things around Cullowhee may not have changed much, but what is in Cullowhee definitely is different from what it used to be. Ninety years have seen a small country school grow into a sixty-five hundred student university. No longer is there only one dorm for men and one for women. Today all ten residence halls are filled to capacity.

Recently it seems as if the motto at Western Carolina has been "The bigger, the better." There is constantly a new building going up somewhere on campus. Memorial Stadium, which was replaced by E.J. Whitmire Stadium in 1975, is now the construction site of the new addition to Hunter Library. Years ago when the Administrative offices in Joyner became too crowded they were moved to the Larger, and then new, Bird Building. This year the administration moved still another time with the completion of the new Administration Building and Mountain Heritage Center. Maybe this expansion is necessary, but hopefully it will not destroy the natural beauty that has helped make WCU unique among universities.

CULLOWHEE, U.S.A.

Live it Up!

Some say there's nothing to do here in Cullowhee. If you think that's the case, take a look at the good times people have. You can always find something to do, you just have to look. Maybe its nothing more than a quiet afternoon in your room. Try going on a hike in the mountains, tubing in the Tuckaseigee River, or spending an evening with a friend. Perhaps you'd rather get together with some friends and go to a Catamount football game. Whatever it is, you'll usually find an opportunity to do it at Western.

FORSYTH
BUSINESS

People

. . . over six thousand of them to be exact. They've come and gone for ninety years, but each August brings back more than the last one did. There must be something here that makes WCU students want to return. Maybe it's the good times they've had here in past years. Perhaps its because people here can walk on city sidewalks without breathing city air. Whatever the reason, Western is a great place to be.

Cullowhee... the Valley of the Lily, the Lover, & the Scholar

Sure, we're all here for one reason — to make our lives better in the future. So work toward your goals, face your mistakes, and then try again. But while you're racking your brain, remember to enjoy life.

Take time out to notice those things you might otherwise overlook and learn to appreciate the people around you. Enjoy your stay in Cullowhee . . . the valley of the lily, the lover, and the scholar.

THE

Time Out!

Sometimes it seems like you have kept your nose in a book for too long. You decide it's time to put it all out of sight and out of mind for a while in an effort to regain your sanity (or what's left of it). As you walk out of Hunter Library you give a look to the other bookworms there that says, "Right now I couldn't care less about studying." It doesn't really matter what you do, just so it gets you away from the books. Whether its getting out in the sun for some fresh air, throwing frisbee, or getting together with some friends for a few laughs, the hours in this mini-vacation are soon over, and then its back to the books once again.

COSMIC CATS

"Cosmic Cats" was the theme for the Homecoming '79 celebration. Among the weeks festivities were concerts by Cullowhee, and Atlanta Rhythm Section, an old-fashioned bonfire, and a pep rally. Homecoming day included the biggest parade ever held here, a tailgate picnic, and a hot air balloon piloted by "Mr. Bill" Norwood of WLOS-TV. After a 42-6 victory over Lenoir-Rhyne, the day ended with a dance featuring Sugar Creek in the Grandroom of the UC.

WCU Band Festival

E.J. Whitmire Stadium came alive on Saturday, October 13, as bands from North and South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and Georgia competed in the Western Carolina University Band Festival. The winning band was from Morristown-Hamblen East High School in Morristown, Tennessee. Coordinator of the festival was Joseph R. Scagnoli, WCU director of bands.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

River Rafting Race

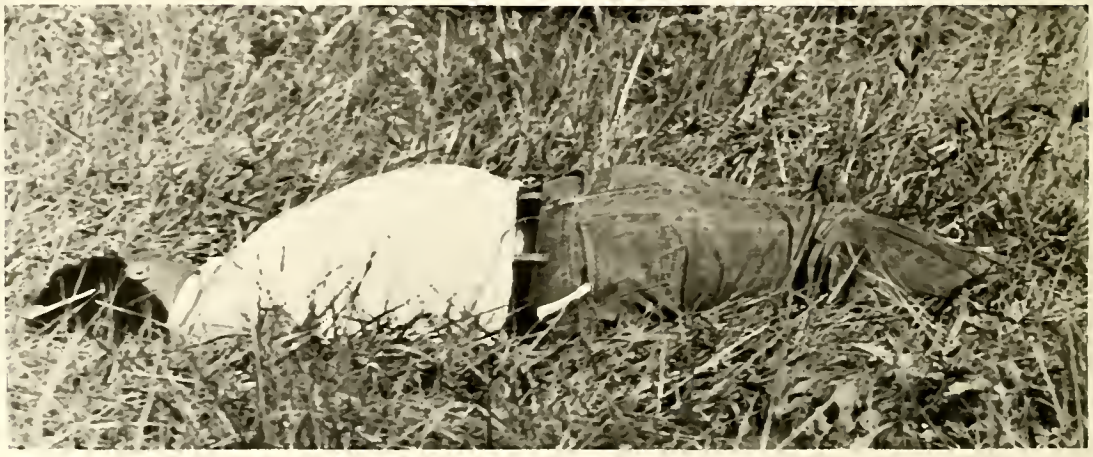
The 13th annual Lambda Chi Alpha River Rafting Race was held on September 15th from University Apartments to the steel bridge on the Tuckaseigee River. The winner of the men's division was Dewey Andrews, the Schlitz distributor from Asheville. Lewis Reeves and Carolyn Clark won the co-ed division. Alpha Zeta Delta took first place in the women's division. Schlitz gave away T-Shirts to second place winners and to the group with the most original raft.

Mountain Heritage Day

The fifth annual Mountain Heritage Day was celebrated September 29. The day coincided with the dedication of the New Mountain Heritage Center and administration building along with WCU's ninetieth anniversary. Woodcarving, squaredancing, mountain music, horseshoe pitching and other mountain crafts offered a glimpse into traditional western North Carolina life.

Drink Till You Drop

The "Drink Till You Drop" party held on Speedwell Road, October 13 resulted in a lot of good times for many WCU students. Participants bought "Tappa New Keg" T-shirts during the week and then wore them the day of the party. This entitled them to all the beer they could drink, till they dropped, of coursel



HAB Fall Festival

The Harrill-Albright-Benton area came to life with a week of activities in the first annual Fall Festival. Area Residents enjoyed a dinner on the lawn, several tournaments and games, a "dunk your favorite RA booth," and free rides on a homemade ferris-wheel. The event was sponsored by Housing, the area staff, and the newly formed Residence Hall Coordinating Council. To sum it all up the Fall Festival proved to be a lot better than the usual Saturday night disco.

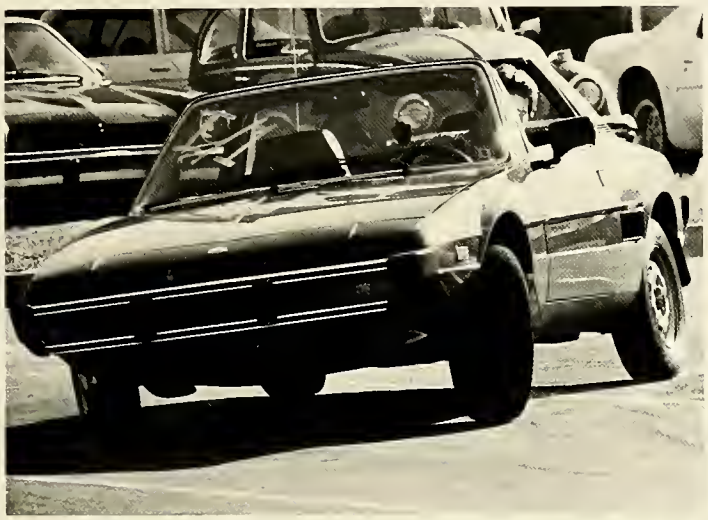
TKE Boxing Matches

The TKE Fall Boxing Matches were held November 7th and 8th in the Grandroom of the UC. Participants were accepted by registration. Maybe there were a few bruised ribs, but for the following trophy winners, it was all worthwhile. Left to right: Clay Lovelace, Bill Freeman, Joel Mauser, Bob Nichols, Greg Leonard, Gary Morrow, Charlie Sweatt, Deith Carawen, and Peter Freer.

WCU ROTC Unit Elevated To Detachment Status

After only four years of existence, Western Carolina University's Army ROTC unit was elevated to detachment status by the Department of the Army. The activation ceremonies were held on Saturday, September 8th. Brigadier General F. Cecil Adams, Jr. Commanding General of the 1st ROTC Region with Headquarters at Fort Bragg, N. C., was guest of honor. The ceremonies included a parade, and a display of the fifty flags of the United States. Also, the General Order #16 was parachuted from an altitude of 12,000 feet by S.F.C. Gattier of the 101st Screaming Eagles Sports Parachute Team from Fort Campbell, Kentucky. The detachment of Western's ROTC program from the Clemson University unit after only four years of existence reflects the growing interest in the new WCU program.

Autocross



Last Minute Productions sponsored the Fall Autocross held November 4 in the stadium parking lot. The event featured three categories of cars: sports cars, sedans, and front wheel drive vehicles. In Class I winners were Doyt Mason — Ist, Bill St. John — 2nd, Scott Davies — 3rd, Class 2 winners were: Bill Dula — Ist Scott Sherrill — 2nd, Jeff Dillard — 3rd; and Class 3: Billy Norton — Ist, John Cooke — 2nd, and John Hoge — 3rd. Prizes were donated by local merchants.

Thanksgiving Womanless Pageant

Alpha Phi Omega held its annual Thanksgiving Womanless Pageant on Wednesday, November 14 in Hoey Auditorium. Funds raised from the pageant went to goods for the needy families of Jackson County. The winner of the pageant was Will Bowers. First runner-up was Jeff Crissman. Second runner-up and Miss Congeniality was Rick Edwards.

Spring Autocross

On Saturday, May the third, the freshman parking lot became the scene for squalling tires and hairpin turns as the spring autocross got under way. Winners in the front-wheel drive class were: Bill St. John — 1st, Steve Brady — 2nd, Celeste Mayer — 3rd. John Hage took first place in the sports car division, while 2nd place honors went to Hunt Sharon. Mark Wilkins came in third. Black Awareness Week

April 14 through April 20 was observed as Black Awareness Week on the WCU campus. The week's activities included a fashion and talent show in Little Theatre and a Dr. Martin Luther King celebration. Flo Kennedy spoke at the Little Theatre on the progress of Black feminine rights in the past, present, and future. On Wednesday, the films Which Way Is Up and Malcolm X were shown. Friday was the night for the annual Miss OES Pageant. Jackie McLaughlin was the winner of the pageant, 1st runner-up was Teresa Blackwell, and 2nd runner-up was Beverly Gibson. Miss Congeniality or Sister Love was Daisy Smith. The week of activities concluded with the annual OES ball, at which the Gaston Band performed.

ROTC Day

In observation of ROTC week in North Carolina, Chancellor Robinson proclaimed Saturday, March 29th to be ROTC Day at Western. The second annual Catamount Drill Day involved high school students from North Carolina and Georgia. Events included a sky-diving exhibition by the Fort Campbell Kentucky Sports Parachute Club. Twenty-Four Hour Insanity

Life in a dorm . . . an out of this world experience. A place where things don't happen by the clock, they happen when the mood strikes. If someone decides to raise a little Cain, it doesn't really matter if its 5 p.m. or 2 a.m. Those who've lived there will attest to the 24-hour insanity that prevails in the dorm.

Why live there then? Well, it's a great place to live. Unless you mind listening to Led Zeppelin at Volume 9 next door trying unsuccessfully to drown out Ted Nugent at the other end of the hall. Unless you mind the people above you dribbling a basketball until the early hours of the morning. Unless you mind your hallmates deciding when you study and sleep. Unless you mind having to hunt for toilet paper when you really don't have time to do so.

Definitely An Alternative Lifestyle

The dorm — where you can drink beer or any other alcoholic concoction in a glass in the hall with no hassle, but you don't dare walk in the hall with a can of beer for fear of it being taken by an RA. Where the floor above you can have 40 gallons of PJ which is perfectly legal, but your floor has to sneak its pony keg in to keep it from being confiscated.

The dorm — where a resident pyromaniac sets the trash chute on fire routinely, rain or shine, just to watch four hundred people come stand in the rain in the middle of the night while Cullowhee VFD puts out the blaze.

The dorm — where people shoot bottle-rockets at the frat house across the street. Where cans of paint are dropped onto the sidewalk from seven floors up, where rolls of toilet paper are thrown down on passing cars. Where seven pound rocks are dropped from stairwell windows onto unsuspecting Traffic & Security cars.

Where else but a dorm could you have shaving cream fights, baby powder fights, and water gun fights (all at the same time)? Where else could you get out of bed, open your door, and find twenty gallons of water pouring into your room out of a trash can that has been carefully placed against your door? Where else could you find yourself "pennied" inside your room by your thoughtful hallmates? And where else would they remove the mouthpiece from the phone so you can't call for help? Where else do they pour five gallons of ice water on someone taking a hot shower? Where else do you wake up to find your room filled with the smell of Clorox because someone emptied a half-full bottle under your door the night before?

Picture A: Nothing unusual, just another trash chute fire in Harrill. B: A moment of solitude is a rare thing in a dorm. C: Evidently, RA's don't know everything that happens on their floor!

The dorm — where if you run too many electrical appliances at once, the power goes off each time the guy next door turns his hair dryer on. Where it takes the maintenance crew three weeks to replace a burned-out light bulb.

The dorm — where you need a set of rabbit ears outside your window to bring in a FM station from somewhere in the next state on the nearest fringes of civilization. Where the people above you use straightened coat hangers to swipe your antenna. Where you are fined $20 for having the window screen out in the first place.

The dorm — where your suitemate's pet parakeet faithfully announces the rising of the sun every Saturday and Sunday morning at 6:30 a.m. The list goes on.

In the dorm you can always listen to five stereos at once — whether you want to or not. In the dorm somebody will always help you find an excuse not to study, sleep, or not to do anything else you're supposed to do. In the dorm no one is immune to party fever — even during exam week. Think it's 24-hour insanity? Maybe so, call it what you like, dorm life is definitely an alternative lifestyle.

Little River Band

Reid Gym was filled with a sell-out crowd on September 12th in favor of the group, Little River Band and their backup Hotel. The concert was said to be one of the best ever held on the WCU campus.

The concert started with Hotel, who got everyone jamming to the music. The audience seemed to really enjoy Hotel's new tunes, especially the jazzy number done with a kazoo and the keyboard.

As the Little River Band took their position on the stage the throng roared with approval. The music that everyone came for then started.

Everything from the lights, to the rhythm and vocals aided the music in presenting an excellent show.

Little River Band played old hits like Happy Anniversary Baby, present smashes like Lonesome Loser and a couple of new songs in the hour and a half that they performed. As the group walked off stage the audience started yelling and didn't let up until the band came back for an encore. After an excellent encore of Lady, in which Little River Band seemed to have played their hardest the crowd was at last satisfied.

Atlanta Rhythm Section

Last Minute Productions brought to Cullowhee a dynamite concert on Friday, October 26. Once again Reid Gym on Western Carolina's campus was filled with an outstanding crowd to listen to some good music from the bands of Stillwater and Atlanta Rhythm Section.

Everyone started jamming and getting "loose as a goose" when Stillwater took the stage and started playing.

As Atlanta Rhythm Section started their performance the audience was ready to get into some rock and roll and everyone did just that.

ARS/67

Waylon Jennings

Cullowhee and Reid Gym came alive on February 19 with the arrival of Waylon Jennings. As the time for the beginning of the concert grew nearer, more and more cowboy hats could be seen on campus. Country music lovers filled Reid Gym early in anticipation of the good country music to come. During his performance Waylon played several of his older songs along with some of his newer hits.

Rain, Rain Go Away Come Again Some Other Day

Rain, precipitation whatever you call it, if you've ever spent a year at Western, you'll probably agree that Cullowhee does get its share of rainfall. Enough so, that for many students that trustworthy, bent, leaky umbrella is a most valuable possession. In reality Cullowhee averages over forty-seven inches ot rain each year. That means quite a bit of rainy weather. Don't be surprised to see the weather change from warm, clear, sunny weather one day to cold and cloudy with snow flurries the next. Yes, Cullowhee is known for its rapidly changing weather. Well, it s true, there s not much we can do about the weather, but we would like to advise you to carry your umbrella along the next time the skies are blue with no clouds and the weatherman predicts near zero chance of precipitation.

Anyone who's ever driven a car at Western doesn't need to be told about the parking situation. Circling in parking lot after parking lot, searching for one, only one parking place. A few are lucky enough to find an empty space; others, after giving up, park in an "unauthorized" zone. Later, they are greeted by a pink slip under the windshield wiper of their car. But what the heck, it was only a $5.00 parking ticket, and there's a fifty percent discount if it's paid in five days. Who's to say it isn't worth $2.50 to avoid walking a half mile across campus in the cold wind and rain at midnight? Besides, Traffic and Security needs something to keep them busy.

SNOW

The winter of 1979-80 saw Cullowhee sticking to its reputation of getting less snow than almost any other place in North Carolina. The major snow at Western was only four inches deep, while Elizabeth City, near the coast, was covered with almost two feet. Later, on the first of March, another unexpected snowfall came, giving us a skimpy two inches, and again dumping up to thirty inches on the coast. Colleges and universities across the state cancelled classes the following Monday. Many WCU students will remember WWCU's Sunday night announcement that there would be no classes the next morning. Regretfully, the word had come from an "unreliable" source, and classes were held as usual. Nevertheless, the snow, when deep enough, did provide many hours of downhill winter fun for those who had "obtained" cafeteria trays.

The #1 Sport At Western

Drinking . . . one of those sports taken up when there's nothing better to do. Whether amateur or professional, the avid fans of this sport have long shown their undying spirit(s). To recognize this great Western tradition, the CATAMOUNT presents these pages in honor of all Cat drinkers past, present, and future. Bottoms up, Cats! For the record, here are the recipes for the drinks shown above. Liebfraumilch Wine (top left): Pour in wine glass and drink up. Bloody Mary (top center): Mix 3 oz. tomato juice, 1 jigger vodka, ½ oz lemon juice, 2 dashes Worcestershire sauce, dash salt & pepper. Shake well with cracked ice and strain into glass. Decorate with orange slice. Whiskey Sour (top right): Stir 1 jigger Bourbon whiskey, 3 dashes aromatic bitters, ¾ oz. lemon juice, and 1 T. powdered sugar. Frappe and strain into glass. Decorate with cherry. Piña Colada (bottom left): Mix 1 oz. Cream of Coconut, 4 oz. unsweetened pineapple juice, 1 jigger white rum, and 1 cup crushed ice. Serve in tall glass; top with slice of orange and cherry. Creme de Menthe Frappe (bottom center): Pour creme de menthe over shaved ice and sip. Screwdriver (bottom right): Pour 2 jiggers vodka into tall glass over ice cubes. Add orange slice, stir, and decorate with orange slice.

... Is NOT Football

Frozen Daiquiri (upper left): Mix in blender 1 jigger white rum, ½ oz. lime juice, scant T. sugar, 1 cup ice, and 1 strawberry. Pour in glass and top with orange slice and strawberry. Harbor Light (left center): Pour 2 jiggers cognac into glass and top with anise. Ignite. Tom Collins (lower left): Mix juice of 1 lemon, 1 T. sugar, 1 jigger dry gin. Shake well with ice, pour unstrained into glass. Fill with soda. Decorate with cherry. As most every Catamount will agree, nothing beats an icy mug of beer (above right) on a hot Cullowhee afternoon.

SPORTS

Football

The 1979 football season will not go down in Western Carolina history as one of the greatest seasons, but it was a winning season, with Coach Bob Waters' Cats winning six of eleven games for their fourth straight winning campaign. However, the disappointment came in the fact that WCU was only 2-4 in the Southern Conference, good for only seventh place in the league.

The Cats were plagued by numerous injuries throughout the season, from the earliest days of fall practice to the last week of the season. No fewer than 30 players fell to injury that kept them out of at least one game, and considering those circumstances, plus the fact that the team had to rebuild the offensive line due to graduation losses the year before, the six wins looked very positive by the seasons end.

Western's season would have been much more satisfying if not for two contests — one the App game in Boone, September 22, when three ASU touchdowns in the second half doomed WCU to a 35-27 loss, and a 21-19 loss to the Citadel, October 6, a game decided in the last minute of play.

The Cats' high points came in an early season shutout of Marshall, 24-0, September 15, and consecutive record-breaking offensive performances over Wofford, 56-21, and the 42-6 Homecoming rout of Lenior-Rhyne, October 27. just a little short in the 42-35 loss, but still ranks as one of the greatest Catamount comebacks in history. The season-ending comeback win over East Tennessee State, 13-9 preserved the winning season for Western.

Also highlighting the season were many fine individual performances — the defense gave up the fewest number of passing yards in the nation, senior quarterback Mike Pusey completely rewrote career passing marks for the school and the Southern Conference, while electrifying Catback Gerald Harp caught 1,009 yards worth of passes. Two freshmen running backs, Leonard Williams and Anthony James, also excited the WCU football fans. Leonard rushed for 881 yards, one of the best in the league, and Anthony added 375 yards, plus another 594 on kickoff returns. Harp, Bobby Peche, Ricky Smith, and Willi Carpenter, were first team All-Southern Conference selections with David Willingham, Pusey, George Alston and Lee McCall honorable mention.

Soccer

The 1979 soccer season proved to be one of the more interesting ones in recent years. Despite an overall 6-9 mark, the Cats finished a respectable fourth place in the Southern Conference. The campaign was also the first for new coach, Malcolm Loughlin, a native of Wales, England, and a veteran of many seasons of soccer coaching. The team also set a new school record in goals scored with 18 in the rout against UT-Chattanooga.

"Dickson . . . Garth made the All-Southern Conference Soccer Team . . ."

Two early season conference wins at VMI and Marshall ranked as memorable highlights. Also the Cats, in a rain-soaked game at Boone, held powerful Appalachian State to a 3-0 score, the fewest number of goals the Apps scored in the conference all season, and finished up the season with a good effort against another powerhouse, the University of South Carolina. Senior Scott Grumman led the club in scoring with 8 goals and 3 assists. John Shireman added 9 points, with another senior David Jones and Simon Dickson and Neil Goodman totaling 7 points. Goalies Trent Faulkner and Dan Herndon combined for 149 saves. Dickson, and junior teammate Paul Garth made the All-Southern Conference soccer team to top off the memorable season.

Basketball

All the so-called experts figured that the Catamounts, with a young team featuring four freshmen and three sophomores, would have a hard time repeating the 14-14 won lost record of the year before. But, much to the delight, and surprise of the Cat backers, the WCU basketball team put together a banner '79-'80 season.

Western finished the season with a fine 17-10 overall record, and placed third in the regular season Southern Conference standings behind Furman and Marshall University.

And, after jumping out to a 8-2 mark early in the season, the Cats became the "Cinderella" team in the league. Big wins came at the expense of Marshall, Davidson (twice), Appalachian (twice), East Tennessee State (twice) and UT-Chattanooga.

And those freshmen! Ronnie "Radar" Carr averaged 17.5 points a game, mostly on bomb shots from the 20-25 foot range. Smooth Kenny Trimier led the league in rebounding (10.2) and added 12.2 points to the Catamount offense and Si Simmons and Greg Young turned out to be very capable reserves.

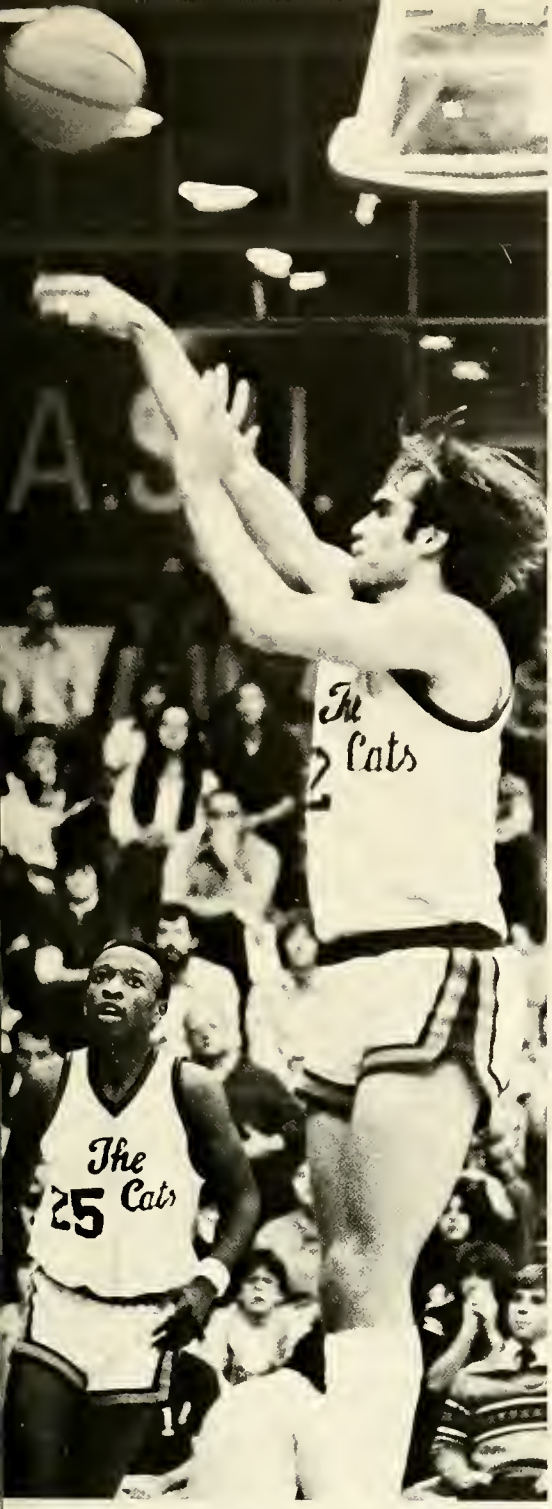
" . . . Dennis . . . leading conference in scoring 21.3 points a game."

Sophomores Kevin Young and Greg Dennis had good years with Greg, who really had a great season, leading the conference in scoring (21.3) points a game, and led the Cats in all-around consistent and exciting play. A first team All-Southern Conference selection, Greg was also runner-up in Player of the Year honors behind Furman's Jonathan Moore. The other veterans on the club, senior tri-captains Harry Dolan, Forrest Callaway and Jimmy McCallister made significant contributions, as did Clarence DesBordes, Eric Young, Doug Plemmons and hustling junior, Larry Caldwell.

Only a disappointing 67-66, last second loss to ASU in the first round of the Southern Conference Tournament at Reid Gym dampened the season for the Cats, who proved in 79-80 that they could play in the Southern Conference — and win.

Head Coach
Steve Cottrell



Doug Plemmons, Si Simmons, Kenny Trimmer, Eric Young, Greg Young, Kevin Young.

"Cottrell . . . named Southern Conference Coach of the Year."

For his efforts, Catamount Coach, Steve Cottrell was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year. Joining Dennis in post season honors were Carr, Runner-up to Troy Lee Mikell of East Tennessee as Freshman of the Year, Trimier, All Freshman Team and second team All-Conference, and Kevin Young, second ranked in the conference in assists. Western was the second best point producing team in the league, (77.4 a game), were second in field goal shooting percentage (48.8) and best in scoring margin (+ 7.5 points a game) and first in rebound margin (+ 6.7 caroms a game.) Attendance in Reid Gym averaged nearly 3,500 for the 15 games, in which the Cats won 12.

Lady Cats Basketball

The Lady Cats basketball team had a good 1979-80 season finishing with a 15-13 overall record and playing competitvely in Coach Judy Murray's first season as coach. The Lady Cats won five of their first six games in impressive fashion and finished the season with a very solid 11-4 mark within the North Carolina AIAW Division II opponents.

" . . . team set a school record with the 110 point explosion against UNCA . . ."

The team set a school record with the 110 point explosion against UNC-Asheville in Cullowhee January 16, and were led in scoring by junior Beth Crisp, 17.9 points a game and sophomore Cindi Saltz, 17.8. Seniors Sandra Julian and Sheila Barker gave the team good leadership while freshmen Glenda Harris, Rhonda Fox, Ginger Eichhorn, Sherree Kasch, Cindy Curtis, and Dissy Thompson gave the young team plenty of excitement.

Baseball

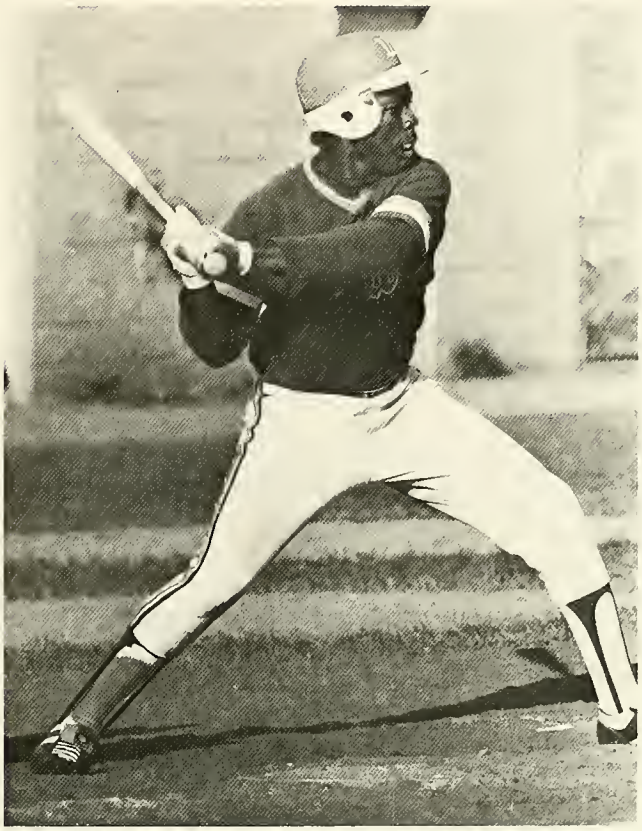
WCU's 1980 baseball season was a banner year to be sure! The Bat Cats posted a surprisingly strong 22-15 season, and with an 8-5 Southern Conference record, stayed in the league championship race until the last conference game of the season. And, all this was done on a team that featured some 15 freshmen. Despite the relative youth and inexperience, the Cats broke 20 school records. Senior tri-captain Willie Carpenter, who hit .392, established new WCU career marks in games (129), at bats (468), hits (168), doubles (35), home runs (16), runs batted in (137), and total bases (267).

Carpenter capped off his brilliant career by shattering single-season records in hits as he ripped 56 in the 37 game schedule. He just missed establishing new marks for single-season doubles, rbi's, and total bases. Willie tied one-game marks with three doubles and seven runs batted in in a game against Salem Collge early in the season.

Carpenter's achievements were far from the only ones — Billy Boyd set a new record in at bats (150) in a single season and in singles (40), and in single-season assists from his shortstop position with 120. Doug Mitchell set a single-season mark with 5 saves while Carpenter, Boyd, and Matt Thrasher set new records with 37 games played.

The team set marks in hits (406), total bases (579), games (37), innings (298 1/3), and in total official at bats with 1254.

The club was led, not only by the record setters, but also by the fine play of sophomore Don Ingle at first base (3.44 with 35 runs batted in), infielder Chet Greeson, catcher Jim Reinicker (.323) and a solid group of freshmen led by Kyle Radford, a top baserunner in the league, Matt Thrasher at third base, and Mel Kinsey in the outfield. The pitching improved over the season and was led by Mitchell in the bullpen, and freshman Lin Stadler, whose 5 wins led the staff. Sophomore Randy Sims (4-4) also had a fine season and developed into the staff's stopper. The Cats batted .324 and gave National powers Clemson, South Carolina, and East Tennessee State good games. The season was a pleasant success — the kind that will have fans eagerly anticipating the '81 campaign.



" . . . Cats finished second in the State Division II championships . . ."

Gymnastics

Western Carolina's gymnastics team, although not compiling an outstanding overall record with two wins in seven meets, gained valuable experience for the young squad by putting together several fine performances during the course of the season.

The Cats finished second in the State Division II championships held at Reid Gym with sophomore Beth Myers putting together a fine all-around performance.

The Lady Cats best performances came in a tri-meet victory against Furman and Clemson, and a 117 point performance over Duke. The squad's only senior, Jill Kaufmann, provided good all-around competitive play and off the court leadership.

ACCOUNTING

"Hello, . . . Speedy's"

Sooner or later meals at Brown and Dodson become too much of a challenge for one's gastronomical fortitude. Somehow you can't see standing in line twenty minutes just to get another one of Cecil's potluck meals. That's when it's time to call Speedy's. Memories of that last meal at the cafeteria make that hot, thick, cheesy pizza seem even more irresistible. A quick phone call is all it would take to have it delivered. No, you really can't afford it, but what the heck. "Hello, Speedy's . . ."

ADMINISTRATION

DR. HELEN HARTSHORN...

40 years of watching Western grow

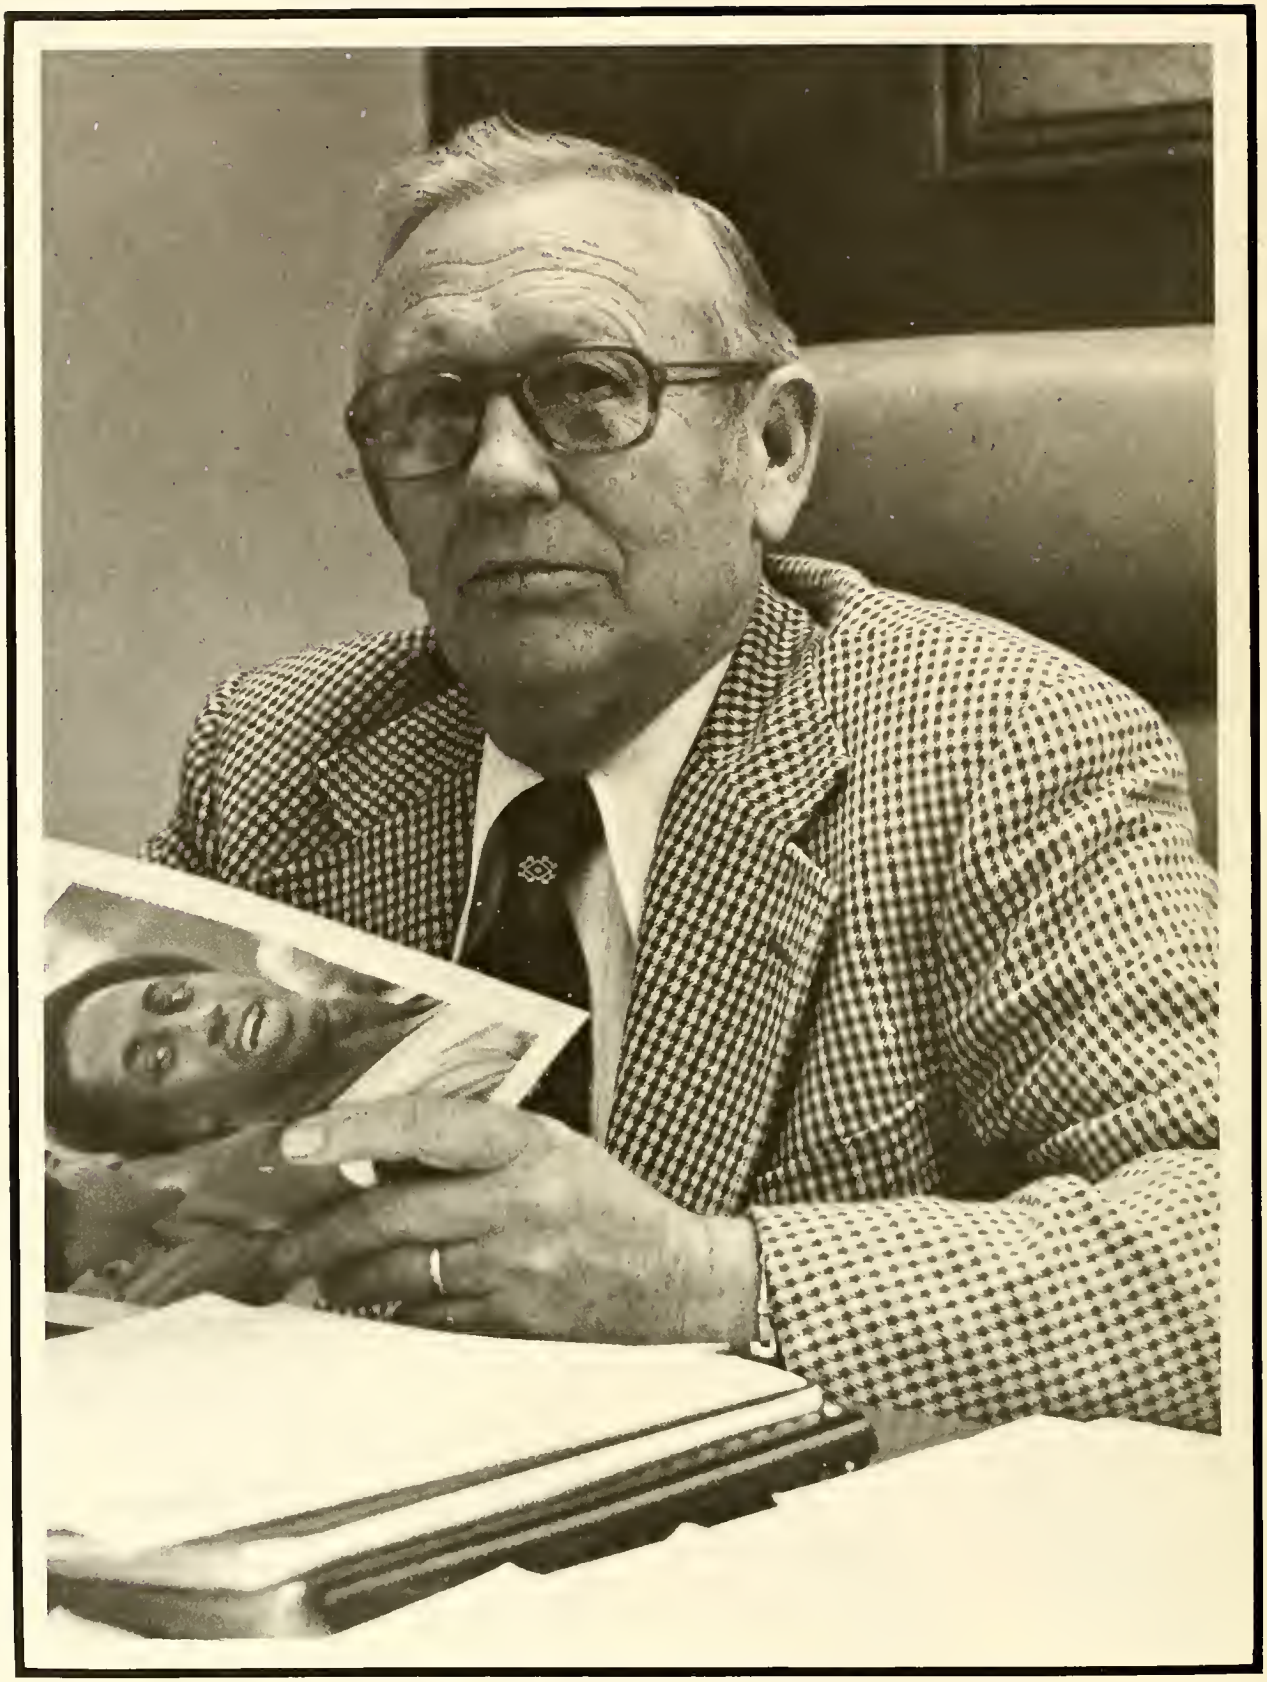
Things certainly have changed here in Cullowhee since Dr. Helen Hartshorn first came to Western Carolina Teachers College as a student almost forty years ago. Dr. Hartshorn, who received her B.S. here in Western in 1944 began teaching that same year. Later she received a Doctor of Education at the University of Georgia. Since she began work here in 1944, she has been a health, recreation and physical education instructor.

Dr. Hartshorn has witnessed the rapid growth of a small teacher's college into a full-fledged university. She believes the greatest change has been in the number of buildings here on campus. Years ago, the now ancient Joyner building housed all the administrative offices, plus the post office, a snack bar, the library, and a chemistry lab. Today each of these is in a separate building. The college even grew its own fresh vegetables on a nearby farm and raised chickens for meat in a chicken house where the new administrative building is today.

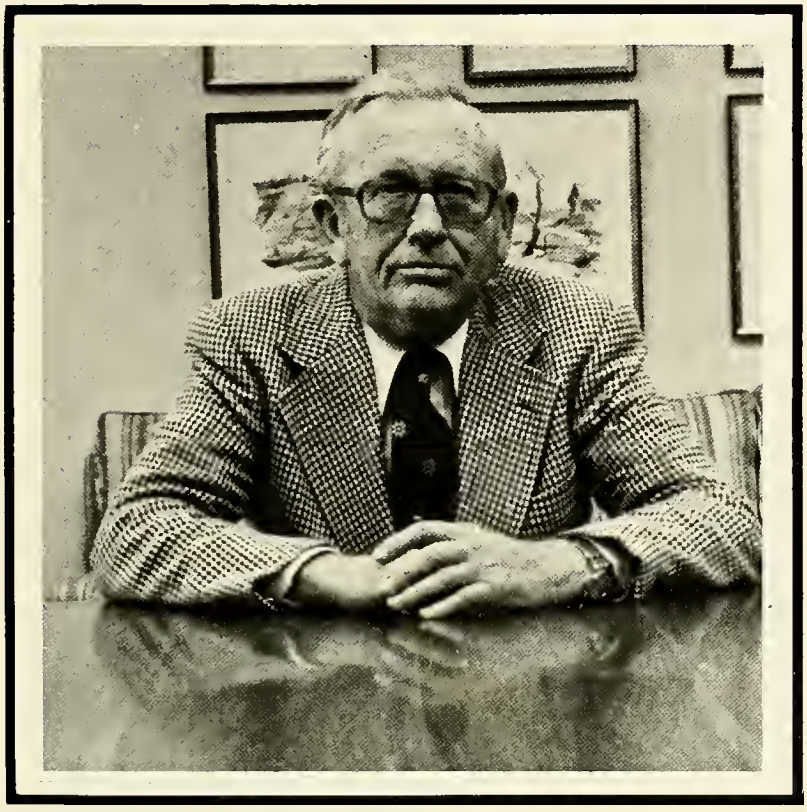
During World War II gas was not overly expensive, but it was rationed. Therefore, very few students had cars. Imagine it ... no long lines of cars waiting to go to Sylva on Friday afternoons. Instead a college bus carried students to Sylva on Saturday mornings and brought them back in the evenings.

Cafeteria style eating is relatively new here on the Cullowhee campus. Dr. Hartshorn remembers when students ate family style in one large dining room. To supervise the students, two faculty members sat at each table. Not only did the students have to eat with their professors, they had to live with them also. The unmarried faculty lived in one of the two dorms on the campus, Davies Hall for men, or Moore Dorm for women.

The years have flown by rapidly. With them Western Carolina University has changed tremendously. Much of the old has been replaced by the new. In regard to this Dr. Hartshorn says, "We should preserve our heritage." Landmarks on the older part of campus should be kept for the years to come so those who come tomorrow will know at least a fraction of what Cullowhee was like yesterday.



Chancellor H.F. Robinson



Under Chancellor Harold F. Robinson's administration WCU has continued to grow and change. Several new campus buildings have been built. The latest of these is the new administration building. Also, several older buildings have been renovated. Construction began this year on a new addition to Hunter Library.

Dr. Robinson, or Cotton, as he is commonly called, is a native of Bandana, North Carolina, a small village about forty miles northeast of Asheville. As a young boy he picked up his well known nickname "Cotton" because of his very blond hair. The name has stuck with him ever since.

Even though college cost only a fraction of its present cost, money for tuition was hard to come by in the days of the great depression. Dr. Robinson paid his first tuition at Mars Hill College with forty bushels of potatoes. Later at North Carolina State he received his B.S. degree in Plant Breeding in 1939 and his M.S. in 1940. Following four years in the United States Navy, he held various positions at North Carolina State University until 1968. He then became Vice-Chancellor of the University of Georgia system. He served as Provost of Purdue University from 1971 until he became chancellor here at Western in 1974.

The chancellor and his wife, Katherine, have two daughters, Karen and Josie, who are both married. For entertainment, the chancellor particularly enjoys outdoor sports including hunting and fishing in the area around Cullowhee. Often Dr. Robinson takes his three beagles, Doc, Ronnie Milsap II and Charlie Pride IV with him while hunting.

Every growing university needs a productive and active leader. Western is fortunate to have a man with such a successful background as its chancellor.

Graduation 1980

Graduation ceremonies for the Class of 1980 were held Sunday morning May 11 at 10:30 in E.J. Whitmire Stadium. The guest speaker was Lois Dickson Rice, a nationally know educator. Rice headed the task force that guided the transition of the old U.S. Office of Education to the new cabinet level U.S. Department of Education. Eight hundred fifty-six diplomas were presented at the graduation exercises.

SHOOT YOURSELF

It is with heavy hearts that we herein place upon record the seemingly carefree self-destruction of over two hundred WCU students. In an attempt to escape from the dull routine, they held their chins high, put on a smile, and then, after gathering the necessary courage, pushed the button. It happened quicker than a blink of the eye, with no pain felt, no tears shed, and no mess made. College life is rough, some make it, others do not. These students believed that to Shoot Yourself was the easiest way out of an excess of exams, a shortage of parking places, and another meal at Brown or Dodson. We hope you all R.I.P.

WESTERN
UNIVERSITY 7

Another school year at Western has passed, and with it the forty-eighth volume of the Catamount yearbook is published. It has been a busy year for those who have made this book possible.

Many thanks go to Peggy Robertson, Head Photographer and Photo Editor, and the remaining photographers: Rick McDaniel, Mark Stewart, Wayne Gilmore, and Chip Davis. I would also like to recognize Janet Wallace, a freshman who, after being on the staff for only a few weeks, took over the vacated position of Business Manager. Also, special recognition goes to Beth Mullis, Denise Gorie, and Wendy Strickland who were always willing to work as much as necessary in order to meet deadlines. In addition, I would like to thank Dr. Quinn Constantz, our advisor, and Jerry Gay, our yearbook representative for their help, Harry Duke in Public Information for supplying several color photographs, and Steve Surles in Sports Information for writing the sports copy. There are many others, some on the staff, some not, who have contributed in many ways. However, it would be impossible to list all those who have helped make the 1980 Catamount what it is. Regardless, each of you know who you are, and your support and assistance will never be forgotten.

The 1979-80 school year at Western Carolina University is now history. Many memorable events happened during the year, some for the last time. Many friends were made, some never to be seen again. It was a year that we can never relive. The 1980 Catamount is the sole record of this year. Unlike newspapers and magazines which are thrown away after being flipped through once, a yearbook is kept throughout life. Hopefully, in years to come, each time this book is opened it will bring back to mind forgotten moments and faces. If it does this, aside from all else, my undertaking will have been worthwhile.

Vincent M. Gentry, Editor
